

Both ground stations independently exchange keys with the satellite;
the satellite (not the ground link) bridges distances of 1000–2600 km